

The Nebraska Educator

Call for Papers – Spring 2014

The Nebraska Educator is an open access peer-reviewed academic education journal at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. This journal is produced by UNL graduate students and publishes articles on a broad range of education topics that are timely and have relevance in the field of all levels of education. We seek original research that covers topics which include but are not limited to: (a) curriculum, teaching and professional development; (b) education policy, practice and analysis; (c) literacy, language and culture; (d) school, society and reform; and (e) teaching and learning with technologies.

If you are interested in submitting your work to the Nebraska Educator, please follow the selected format:

- APA Style
- Title (10 words or less)
- Abstract (150-250 words with suggested key words)
- Total manuscript (7500 words or less)
- Permissions if using images
- File saved as a Word document (.doc or .docx)

Please submit online using: <http://digitalcommons.unl.edu/nebeducator/>

(Left-hand column under 'Author Corner'—Click on 'Submit your paper or article')

Deadline for Submission: Friday, February 14th, 2014

If you have questions, please contact Kristine Sudbeck at kristine.sudbeck@huskers.unl.edu